CERTIFICATE OF ENGLISH GRAMMAR AND SYNTAX REVISION AND EDITING

December 18th, 2021

This certificate certifies that the English grammar and syntax of the following document, entitled:

Animal models applied to acute-on-chronic liver failure: Are new models required to understand the human condition?

was copyedited by Dr. Rachel Ann Hauser Davis, MSc, PhD - Biologist and Doctor in Sciences - native English speaker, British national, experienced translator and scientific researcher for over 25 years. The intent of the author's message was not altered in any way during the editing process. The quality of the language edit has been guaranteed, with the assumption that the suggested changes have been accepted and the document has not been further altered without our knowledge.
