

To whom it may concern

This is for the kind information that the authors for the manuscript titled “Pediatric acute viral hepatitis with atypical variants: clinical dilemmas and natural history ” are native English speakers and the language of communication in the Institute where the authors work is English. Hence, I would like to inform the editors of the journal that the ‘Non-Native Speakers of English Editing Certificate’ may not be applicable. The article has been carefully proofread with www.grammarly.com
