SPECIFIC COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

It is an interesting minireview that systematically summarizes the epidemiological, clinical, and diagnostic features of reported patients with congenital LCMV infection. The review is written in correct English. However, there are some minor adjustments the authors may provide in order to increase its scientific value. Please read the remarks below: Results In the results section I would suggest to provide also the interquartile range of the birth weights, and age of diagnosis, and age of decease.
