Rome, 13th July 2022

Dear Editors,

thank you for considering our manuscript and for your suggestions. We thank you and the peer reviewers who completed their review of our manuscript for the effort put in the editorial process.

We have proceeded to apply the Reference Citation Analysis (RCA) tool in order to supplement and improve the highlights of the latest cutting-edge research results in order to improve the manuscript. We hope the revised version of our manuscript will match your expectations and that it will be considered to be suitable for publication in the World Journal of Psychiatry.

To facilitate re-review, we employed the strikeout font in color for omissions while we applied changes and/or additions by highlighting them with colored fonts to emphasize differences between the old and the new version.

Below you will find also the response to the reviewers. We sincerely thank you again for appreciating our paper.

Dear Reviewer,

we sincerely thank you for appreciating our manuscript.

Our intent, for the moment, was to write a letter. We sincerely thank you, however, for your valuable and kind suggestion and we will certainly proceed in the future to prepare a review on the subject.

Thank you again for your kind review and for appreciating our work.

Sincerely
