

Informed consent

Informed consent was waived for all patients because the study was a retrospective observational study.