1. The manuscript must be edited. Some minor spelling mistakes should be corrected.

These comments have already been revised

2. The background in the abstract should be edited. The sentence “This study aims to deeply explore the clinical characteristics, treatment conditions and prognostic factors of ascites and hyponatremia in patients with cirrhosis, and provide scientific basis for developing more effective diagnosis and treatment strategies. This will help improve patient management and provide an important reference for future clinical practice.” is repeated with the aims. Please delete it.
