Revised manuscript 19007 May 17, 2022

Dear Dr. Miwa:

The revision of your manuscript is complete. Please send me a reply to confirm that you received this Email.

Attached to this Email are the following documents:

- your revised manuscript in which the Microsoft Word "track changes" are not shown ("Revised MS")
- your revised manuscript with "track changes" shown ("MS Redlines")
- your revised cover letter ("Revised Letter", and redlines document "Letter Redlines")
- your revised Excel tables
- our Analysis Document (the first page of this document contains general information on our revision)
- our invoice (PDF)

We recommend that you use the "Revised MS" file as your working document and refer to the "MS Redlines" document as necessary.

General note (mentioned to each client): Your manuscript may have required extensive revision and comments. Thus, please consider our current revision and make appropriate changes where necessary. Thereafter, if you feel you would like us to re-read your updated manuscript (i.e., to correct any English mistakes introduced during your update), then please send it to us again. Indeed, if your manuscript has undergone extensive revision, then an additional round of revision may be particularly helpful (and perhaps necessary).

Additional Note: If you choose to re-send your updated manuscript to us for a final revision, then later we will send you an updated invoice that reflects the fee for both our current revision and final revision.

Thank you for allowing us to assist you with the publication of your manuscript. Sincerely yours, Tim Taylor
