Subject: {External} Spy accessories figure use

Hi Kelsey,

Hope you are doing well. I'm working on an editorial-type piece with James Buxbaum and a mentee/colleague Dr. Amit Subhash (CCed) on the topic of peroral cholangioscopy, and we'd like to use the attached figure found on the Boston Scientific website. I remember we were in communication about a year ago with Earl McAllister, Dr. Rajiman, and others about using cholangioscopy images, and permission was granted. We may have already asked for (and received) permission to use this figure at that time, but I just wanted to confirm that it is still ok to do so. We would of course include a citation saying that it was adapted from the Boston Scientific website. Could you let me know when you have a moment?

Thanks so much,

James Tabibian

Hi Dr Tabibian,

Yes, I'll work with the product manager today to get it quickly approved. I'll keep you updated.

Sincerely,

Kelcey

Terrific, thank you so much. In case it's useful to know, this is for World Journal of Gastrointestinal Endoscopy. And of course, we'd be happy to share a copy of the article once it's ready.

Great, excited to see it once its ready!

Attached is the image you were looking for in both a horizontal and vertical format. Let me know if there is anything else you will need for the piece.

Sincerely,
