

Informed consent statement

This is a retrospective study that used anonymous clinical data. According to institutional policies, informed consent was not required from patients in this study.