A well written article. Given the large amount of information, a synthesizer might have been useful

We thank for the suggestions.

In order organize the information we added a new table and figure in section Il-17 family cytokine & Il-17 family receptor.

(2) Reviewer Number 6071:

The review submitted by Chackelevicius et al is interesting, well written and up to the point. As a minor comment, first paragraph on page 5, after the heading “IL17 FAMILY CITOKINE & IL17 FAMILY RECEPTOR” is difficult to understand and should be rewritten.

We would like to thank this reviewer for the suggestion, it was appropriate.

The mentioned section was rewritten and clarified.

(3) Reviewer Number

I recommend you redesign your review article as a systematic review and also add a methods section with detailed data on how you reviewed the literature and the search engines you used and keywords and so forth. I also recommend to use more tables to summarize data on different aspects of the issue.

We thank very much the reviewer for the suggestion. In effect, we added a Materials and Methods section with the search criteria and engines used in page 4.

Another table was added in the Il-17 family cytokine & Il-17 family receptor section (page 5)
