Reviewer's comments:

COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

This is an interesting revision about epidemiology of pancreatic cancer. On page 6 at the beginning of penultimate line started with at least I suggest to change for the least deaths were ... Figures are illustrative but figures 6 and 7 only reflects 7 countries not 8 that is written on the text

Answer:

Thank you very much for your valuable comments.

You are right.

I am grateful to the reviewer for noticing this omission.

Correction was made in the revised manuscript.

In the corrected manuscript, on page 6 at the beginning of penultimate line we have changed words `at least` with the words `the least`.

And (page 8 / paragraph 3 / line 21), instead of `8`, we entered `several`.

We hope that those sentences are the answers to your comments. Again, we appreciate all of your valuable comments. Thank you for taking the time and energy to help us improve the manuscript.

Note:

Our manuscript is a Review and we provided all the following documents as listed below:

We understand and fully support the initiative that World Journal of Gastroenterology is undertaking with being a member of CrossCheck by CrossRef and iThenticate. We have found this information on the Journal's website: `The science editor will send the revised manuscript, along with the peer reviewers' comments (including language quality evaluation), the CrossCheck reports and the documents regarding Academic Rules and Norms, to the authors.` We have not received these reports in this e-mail, and this service is not available freely to us as individuals which unfortunately, given the financial circumstances in our country and especially in the science, makes it impossible to obtain by ourselves. We hope that, to our best understanding and as stated here <http://www.wjnet.com/bpg/gerinfo/208> `In addition, to fight against plagiarism and to ensure high ethical standards for all of the published papers, BPG has joined CrossCheck in 2014. CrossCheck is an effective tool for detecting unoriginal content, enabling our editors to preserve the journal's integrity and the authors' copyright. For accepted manuscripts, we will conduct CrossCheck (<http://www.ithenticate.com/>) detection.` we have answered this request and, again, we show full support for your efforts in this matter.

- 8 28514-Language certificate.

In regard to document named `28514-Language certificate`, we have read the instructions on the Journal's website (<http://www.wjnet.com/bpg/GerInfo/217>), and also the ones sent to us as an attachment in this e-mail. We have made sure, in regard to English language, that our manuscript has grammatical clarity and adequate grammatical structure, along with appropriate vocabulary so that the intellectual content of the manuscript and intended meaning are expressed in a clear and accurate manner, which was recognized and acknowledged by the peer reviewer (Language evaluation: Grade A: priority publishing, and Conclusion: Accept). Also, Scientific editor Yuan Qi did not raise a point concerning English language in the Edited Manuscript with reviewers' comments. As explained in Journal's instructions, these are not the circumstances in which English language editing is strongly encouraged.
