

di Anne Prudence Collins & C.

an editorial service for academic publications

28th February 2017

To whom it may concern

I am a professional mother tongue editor and translator fluent in the Italian and English languages. I have long-standing experience in editing medical and scientific papers for publication in international peer-reviewed journals. I hereby certify that I have read and undertaken extensive language editing and grammar revision of the paper: “LIVER TRANSPLANTATION IN THE TREATMENT OF SEVERE IATROGENIC LIVER INJURIES” by A. Lauterio et al. I further certify that the language of the manuscript is now Grade A.

I am at your disposal for any further information.

Yours truly,

Anne Prudence Collins
Editor and Translator
Medical & Scientific Publications
Member AITI - FIT UNESCO
Member European Medical Writers Association