

Editing Service Confirmation

To Whom It May Concern,

The professional science and medicine editors at Filipodia provided comprehensive grammatical editing services for the manuscript titled Precision medicine in gastric cancer by Bonelli P *et al, which is under consideration for publication in your journal.

The editing process corrected all grammatical and language errors and addressed consistency and clarity of the content (reaching Grade A, as defined by the BPG World series journals guidelines). The authors confirmed that the integrity of the content had been preserved by the edit.
