To whom it may concern,

I herein certify that the manuscript entitled Screening for scoliosis. New recommendations, old dilemmas, no straight solutions, which I have submitted to the World Journal of Orthopedics, is written in standard British English, and that it has been carefully prepared and thoroughly re-read.

I wrote and published a number of scientific articles in peer-reviewed journals, as well as I have served as a peer-reviewer for several journals. My latest papers, which I have written myself, or have written with co-operation with the co-authors of the manuscript under consideration, without any assistance of language-editing services, include BMJ Open, Disability and Rehabilitation, Qualitative Research in Sport, Exercise and Health, and BMC Sports Science, Medicine and Rehabilitation journals.

The co-authors of the manuscript are also fluent scientific English language users. Mrs Weronika Grantham has graduated from an MA course in Dance and Somatic Wellbeing: Connections to the Living body, at the University of Central Lancashire, England. The paper has been finally peer reviewed by a native English speaker, Mr Robert Grantham.

Should you require any additional information, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Sincerely,

Maciej Płaszewski, PhD, PT, MED, University Professor
