SPECIFIC COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

First I would like to thank the author for the opportunity of reading such an interesting paper.

1. General comments The manuscript deals with an important topic to assess patient and procedural factors associated with lower sedation requirements for endoscopy. This study had a large sample size and these findings suggest factors predictive of tolerance with lower sedation requirements for EGDs. However, I have some concerns that should be addressed regarding methodology, and interpretation of results.

2. Specific comments a) Minor Materials and methods Although missing values were demonstrated in the limitation of the discussion section, if there were missing values, it is recommended to explain how to handle them in the methods section.

Discussion The authors should mention that causal reversal, that is, the factors identified may have lower EGD sedation requirements, rather than predicting resistance to low EGD sedation requirements.
