

Reviewer #1: Gong et al. presented the current status and future perspectives of the World Journal of Clinical Oncology (WJCO). The authors described the achievements of WJCO, current members of editorial board, soliciting contributions and limitations and solutions of the WJCO. The manuscript contains multiple effective information for current and future contributor of this journal. The paper deserves ultimate publication and my recommendation is the article is accepted.

Reply: Thank you very much for your positive comments.