Reply to reviewers' comments

Reviewer #1: The paper under review is the Editorial, and is based on the conclusions of the editorial board meeting. Though it lacks scientific component, the content of the paper reflects high standards of practice held by World Journal of Hepatology editorial office. It shows openness for the discussion on the collaboration with the communities of hepatologists, goals of the journal, and strategy for their achievement. I suppose that the paper would be interesting for the readers.

Response: Thank you for your comments. We plan to discuss more about the WJH's scientific contents in the next editorial board meeting.

Reviewer #2: The journal performance is growing and is very important to have a good development strategy for the upcoming year.

Response: Thank you for your positive comments.
