SPECIFIC COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

The authors provided the comprehensive strategies of radiation oncology practice during the COVID-19 pandemic in developing countries. I have no concern to publish this paper. However, I should recommend citing Prof. Conghua Xie's publications, as an excellent radiation oncologist, he did lots of work regarding radiation oncology practice during the COVID-19 pandemic in Wuhan, China and please make some detailed data in the manuscript.

SPECIFIC COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

This manuscript was a mini review which focused on radiation oncology practices during the COVID-19 pandemic in developing countries. The authors introduced concerns and challenges which patients and health care providers have faced, and suggested methods to overcome them. This is a well-written paper that provides informative information. I found no problems concerning the manuscript.
