

The study that we are submitting is not a clinical trial and therefore we do not have a clinical trial registration statement

This study was purely chart review and therefore informed consent was not collected as it was just a retrospective analysis rather than an actual clinical trial