SPECIFIC COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

The overall impression of the technical contribution of the current study is reasonable. However, the Authors may consider making necessary amendments to the manuscript for better comprehensibility of the study. 1. The contribution of the current study must be briefly discussed as bullet points in the introduction. And motivation must also be discussed in the manuscript. 2. The overall organization of the manuscript is not discussed anywhere in the manuscript. Please add the same in the introduction section of the manuscript. 3. Introduction section must discuss the theoretical gaps associated with the current problem. 4. Some graphical representation of the proposed model may be considered for better understanding of the future perspective model. Authors may refer a similar study for better understanding <https://doi.org/10.3390/diagnostics12123067> 5. A table may be added for showing the energy expenditure. 6. The abbreviations must be properly written. 7. By considering the current form of the conclusion section, it is hard to understand by Journal readers. It should be extended with new sentences about the necessity and contributions of the study by considering the authors' opinions about the experimental results derived from
