

Comments from the Science Editor:

- The authors report a case of implemented negative pressure wound therapy (NPWT) following skin grafting in the treatment of a 92-year-old woman with skin cancer. Manuscript Type of the main text is Letter to the Editor. If you choose Case Report, please revised the format according to our previously published edition of Case Report.

Response: Thank you for the comments. According to previously published edition of Case Report, we have revised the format of our manuscript. Due to the modification of more content, it is recommended that editors review in the article.

- As you say, there are some reports of NPWT being used for skin cancer, authors should compare the similarities and differences between your study and previous studies.

Response: Thank you for the comments. We have added relevant content to the article.

Line 57-60

“ In contrast to previous reports on the cost-utility value<sup>5</sup>and the effect of reducing lymphatic leakage<sup>6</sup> of NPWT in skin cancer, we found that this technology helps to reduce the risk of surgical effusion, infection, and flap necrosis.”

Comments from Company editor-in-chief:

-The quality of the English language of the manuscript does not meet the requirements of the journal. Before final acceptance, the author(s) must provide the English Language Certificate issued by a professional English language editing company. Please visit the following website for the professional English language editing companies we recommend: <https://www.wjgnet.com/bpg/gerinfo/240>.

Response: Thank you for the comments. The article has been polished by a professional English language editing company. We have uploaded the English Language Certificate in the system.

-Before final acceptance, uniform presentation should be used for figures showing the same or similar contents; for example, “Figure 1 Pathological changes of atrophic gastritis after treatment. A: ...; B: ...; C: ...; D: ...; E: ...; F: ...; G: ...”. Please provide the original figure documents. Please prepare and arrange the figures using PowerPoint to ensure that all graphs or arrows or text portions can be reprocessed by the editor. In order to respect and protect the author’s intellectual property rights and prevent others from misappropriating figures without the author's authorization or abusing figures without indicating the source, we will indicate the author's copyright for figures originally generated by the author, and if the author has used a figure published elsewhere or that is copyrighted, the author needs to be authorized by the previous publisher or the copyright holder and/or indicate the reference source and copyrights. Please check and confirm whether the figures are original (i.e. generated de novo by the author(s) for this paper). If the picture is 'original', the author needs to add the following copyright information to the bottom right-hand side of the picture in PowerPoint (PPT): Copyright ©The Author(s) 2023. Please upload the approved grant application form(s) or funding agency copy of any approval document(s).

Response: Thank you for the comments. The contents of picture have been replenished, which will be uploaded by using PowerPoint.
