Title: Fluid resuscitation in acute pancreatitis

Authors : Aakash Aggarwal, Manish Manrai, Rakesh Kochhar

Name of journal: World Journal of Gastroenterology

ESPS Manuscript no: 12437

The manuscript has been improved as per the suggestions of reviewers

1 English language editing by an English professor has been done. I give guarantee that English language has been improved to acceptable levels.

2 Format has been updated

3 Revisions have been made as per suggestions of reviewers

A Details of CHDF and CVVP are now added . The paper evaluates the reported studies on fluid resuscitation and highlights deficiencies in the available literature with an attempt to suggest directions for future research.

B A section on SPECIAL SITUATIONS has been added to discuss the need for special considerations in patients with renal failure, hypotension and respiratory failure.

C Manuscript has been edited to reflect a philosophy of management of acute pancreatitis based on fluid resuscitation.

References and typesetting were corrected

Thank you again for publishing it in World Journal of Gastroenterology

I am honoured.

Sincerely yours,

Rakesh Kochhar, MD
