Title: Racial Disparities in Psychotic Disorder Diagnosis: A Review of Empirical Literature

Author: Robert C. Schwartz, David M. Blankenship

Name of Journal: World Journal of Psychiatry

ESPS Manuscript NO: 13523

The manuscript has been improved according to the suggestions of reviewers:

Reviewer # 02445219

1. In the Abstract the sentence "Latino American/Hispanic consumers were also disproportionately diagnosed..." was changed to include the actual rate of disproportionate diagnosis (3-4 times higher).

2 In the Abstract additional information was provided regarding potential explanations for race and diagnosis, and directions for future empirical research.

Reviewer # 02445222

1. A summary table was added to document outcomes of empirical studies reviewed (e.g. Table 1 with number of studies in favor or against the hypothesis).

2. In the Discussion section the distinction between the prevalence of a diagnosis (label) and having the disorder itself was discussed and clarified more explicitly.
