Dear Gustavo,

I received this email from Emily and I am afraid that we will not be able to release the consent form or the IRB approval as I am not certain about the patient and the procedure discussed in the paper. Further, this will also jeopardize the patient privacy.

With best regards.

Dear Emily Caldwell,

We are currently working in a manuscript that was accepted to be published in a peer reviewed journal, we were involved in the care of the patient, the editorial requires the PDF of the consent form and the IRB form, the patient had a jo-stent placed for an off label indication, emergent IRB approval was obtained. Would it be possible to have the PDF of the IRB and consent form?, The patient's initials are SL and it was placed August 2008, I believe in the first half.

Thank you for your help
