As journal editors and reviewers, we help you publish your papers smoothly and quickly!

The American Eagle Editing Office (AEEO) was founded by a group of biomedical scientists in Maryland, USA. We provide professional editing of manuscripts to reflect a native English tone and voice.

We also provide other manuscript services including translation, journal recommendation, cover letter preparation, submission, and answering reviewers' comments and questions.

Professional service

Our editors are native English speakers from prestigious American universities and institutions (Harvard University, Duke University, the Johns Hopkins University, University of Maryland, Stanford University, Yale University, and NIH). Our senior editors also serve as editors and/or peer-reviewers for peer-reviewed journals.

Prompt service

Our regular service takes 6-9 days. We also provide expedited service (48 hours).

Guaranteed service

If your manuscript that we have edited is rejected by a journal due to English language issues, we promise to edit your manuscript for free. In addition, we provide language assistance without extra charges until your manuscripts are accepted by scientific journals if you choose our structural editing.

Comprehensive service

We provide not only English editing, but also translation of Chinese, Portuguese, Spanish, Italian, and French manuscripts into English. We also recommend journals for your submission, prepare cover letter, help authors answer reviewers' comments and questions, and provide professional guidelines on your research.
