

Fang-Fang Ji,
Science Editor, Editorial Office
Baishideng Publishing Group Inc
8226 Regency Drive, Pleasanton, CA 94588

February 18, 2015,

Dear Editor,

Thank you for the opportunity to revise our submission "Outpatient Competence Restoration: A Model and Outcomes" (ID 00485016). We enumerate our specific changes in response to the reviewers and editor below.

Please find enclosed the edited manuscript in Word Format (file name: 15715-review.doc.).

Title: Outpatient competence restoration: A model and outcomes

Authors: Nicole R Johnson, Philip J Candilis

Name of Journal: World Journal of Psychiatry

ESPS Manuscript NO: 15715

We appreciate the positive comments of two of the reviewers and have added a footnote describing the unpublished nature of other educational materials in the text as requested by the third reviewer. Our program, like others, does not publish all educational materials so that attorneys and clients do not gain an improper advantage by preparing before or during the formal process of restoration. We have now made that clear.

The manuscript has been improved according to the suggestion of reviewers:

1. Format has been updated
2. We have added Institutional review board statement along with waiver (PDF)
3. We have added Informed consent statement - The study was exempted from IRB review and contains aggregate data, so no individual consent was obtained.
4. We have added Biostatistics statement
5. We have added Conflict-of-interest statement
6. We have added Data sharing statement
7. We have crafted and uploaded an audio file for the Core tip.

8. We have structured the Abstract to conform to the journal's requirements.
9. We have added Comments (including Background, Research Frontiers, Innovations and Breakthroughs, Applications, Terminology) at the end of the manuscript
10. Our hospital librarian has obtained PMID and doi numbers for those references which have them available.
11. There are no current website references for Reference numbers 8 and 16. Reference number 8 is a private shareholders meeting which is held quarterly in the DC Superior Courthouse. Reference number 16 is a hospital based program which is not available in a public forum.

Thank you for your continued consideration.

Sincerely,

Nicole R. Johnson, MD
Dept. of Behavioral Health
Washington DC, USA
E-mail: nicoler.johnson@dc.gov