The new sections of text of your revised manuscript and the response to the reviewers have been comprehensively edited and elsewhere the text was proof checked to ensure consistency and logical flow. Please check the edit carefully, especially the area highlighted in yellow.

If you have any questions about the manuscript, or if you would like me to check any final changes you make to the wording, please let me know. However, if you will proceed directly to resubmission to World Journal of Gastroenterology, I wish you well with this.

We look forward to working with you again.
