

Language Certificate for the manuscript

Hemostasis in liver transplantation: pathophysiology, monitoring, and treatment

By M. Hartmann, C. Szalai, F. Saner

Dear Sirs,

as a native English speaker from USA and an anaesthetist working both in Great Britain and Germany, I have a profound knowledge on both language issues and scientific content. I have language edited the manuscript No. 18712 and discussed the changes with the other authors. In detail, some sentences had to be restructured to conform with syntax and grammatical structure of the English language. Some terms and verbs were not appropriate and therefore reformatted.

After correction, I can confirm, that the quality of the manuscript has markedly improved and now stands at language quality A.

Dr. Cynthia Szalai

Klinik für Anästhesiologie und Intensivmedizin
Universitätsklinikum Essen
Germany