Title: Orthotopic liver transplantation for giant liver hemangioma: A case report

World Journal of Transplantation

Dear Editor,

1.) The reviewer 00005191 called for considerations of ethical motives and the procedures behind our non-standard exception status application. I include explanations of the

- ethical motives (regular presentation of the patient in a worsening condition without any chance to get an organ) and

- procedures (which reason and disease pattern cited in the application, how long the application process took, which initial MELD-Score and how was working the upgrading of the MELD Score) into the manuscript (Conclusion, section 4).

2.) The reviewer 00503243 required an improvement of the English wording. I received an Editorial certificate of the "American Journal Experts".

3.) There were no requirements from reviewer 00054465.

Further, how it was demanded in the edited case report:

1.) I revised the author's names.

2.) I revised the Ethical approvals and Peer review (section Comments).

3.) I changed the citation format.

4.) I pointed out the location of the figures in the text.

Yours sincerely,

Undine Gabriele Lange
