Answering reviewers

Comment:

An excellent review but a prolific author with extensive experience with prostate cancer. This is clearly a timely and clinically relevant review. I would only question that reference 33 does not seem to relate to a randomized controlled trial suggested in the last paragraph of clinical experience. Presumably the trial is ongoing? Perhaps it would be better to reference the Clinicaltrials.gov identifier if the study is ongoing. Again, congratulations to the author on a thorough and informative review of a state-of-the-art technique.

Response:

The last paragraph predominantly refers to reference 21 (randomized controlled study). Reference 33 is a case control study. To make it clear, reference 21 ("[21]") has been mentioned twice in the revised manuscript (not only at the end of the paragraph).
