

RESPONSE LETTER

Reply to the first reviewer:

1. In the conclusion section we also summarized the impact of Helicobacter pylori treatment in preventing gastric cancer
2. We excluded sentences that have repeated – we have shortened the sections of „Global burden” and „Role of Hp infection” and included them in the „Introduction” part

Reply to the second reviewer:

1. Based on your advice, we have focus our review on „New advances in targeted gastric cancer treatment”
2. We have shortened the sections of „Global burden” and „Role of Hp infection in gastric cancer development and the efficacy of Hp eradication in preventing this neoplasia” and included them in the first section, the „Introduction” part
3. We have changed the title to focus the targeted treatment in gastric cancer
4. We have included the methodology of the research
5. The article was checked by a professional proof-reading service and obtained a language certificate

All the changings were marked in the text with red colour.

Editor’s suggestion: we included a table decribing the most important classes of targeted agents studied in gastric cancer treatment.