Subject: Language Certificate from Private English Classes for WJG Editor regarding English language revision of a manuscript to be submitted to World Journal of Gastroenterology

WJG manuscript reference number: 26154

Article title as submitted to us on June 6, 2016 before revision: Periodontal and inflammatory bowel diseases: is there evidence for complex pathogenic interactions?

Corresponding author as indicated in the manuscript: Carlos Marcelo Figueredo

Dear WJG Editor,

I confirm that we have revised the article mentioned above with respect to scientific English readability, logic, and natural American structures and usage. We returned the revised files to the authors of this paper and they have incorporated the changes.

The editing for native English language was thorough. We certify that the paper reads smoothly and can be easily understood without room for questions about the meaning.

Yours sincerely,

Edward Pickus
