

Dear Editor,
World Journal of Hepatology,

Thank you for taking time to review our submission. All of your revisions have been addressed and are discussed below:

Point-by-Point Revision

1. Conflict-of-interest PDF statement signed and included
2. Core tip included with an audio core tip (mp3) attached as well
3. All references within manuscript are placed in square brackets in superscript
4. References have been updated to appropriate format with all authors (first author bolded), pubmed citation, and DOI
5. All tables now have all references cited adequately
6. Figure 1 can now be edited within Word
7. Grammatical revisions:
  - a. Some abbreviations are not stated in clear in the case of first use. For example RRT, ESRD etc.
    - i. Abbreviations have now been clearly stated in first use
  - b. In the sentence on page 5 "In our cirrhotic population, MDRD-6 is used more widely when compared to C-G given inclusion of albumin and urea." the word "used" is doubled.
    - i. Removed the second "used"
  - c. The sentence on page 7 "Interestingly, two prospective studies assessing AKI criteria in patients with cirrhosis and found that AKI with serum Creatinine values..." should be controlled again. I think the word "and" not necessary.
    - i. Removed the word "and"
  - d. In the sentence on page 15 "An unintentional byproduct of SLKT..." the words "by" and "product" should be written separately.
    - i. "Byproduct" has been changed to "by product"
  - e. The references of the sentence on page 17 "...Liver After Kidney Transplantation (LAKT)(88), (89)." should written according to the guideline for authors.
    - i. This has been appropriately changed within manuscript to "...Liver After Kidney Transplantation<sup>[88,89]</sup>"
8. Finally, we have read the author guidelines and followed the format to the best of our abilities.

I hope that with these changes our manuscript is further improved and acceptable for publication.

Sincerely,

Khalid Mumtaz, MD, MSc
