

Dear Editor-in Chief,

Thank you for providing the favorable suggestion made by the reviewer to improve our manuscript (ESPS Manuscript NO: 28112) entitled "Prophylactic liver transplantation for high-risk recurrent hepatocellular carcinoma". We think we have adequately addressed the question raised by the reviewer, and hope that our manuscript will be found acceptable for publishing in "World Journal of Hepatology".

Sincerely yours,

The review of Yang et al. is about the concept of prophylactic LT in high-risk HCC recurrence patients. The review is well written, refers adequate and relevant articles, moreover, includes the own results of the authors as well. Minor language polishing is recommended before acceptance for publication.

Response: Thanks for the reviewer's comments. The manuscript has been modified by English editing company "Editage". The certificate of English editing is attached as files. We'll send the text to further English editing if needed.
