

Institutional review board statement: We have not included a statement of IRB review, since IRB approval is not required for questionnaire research that does not provide personal information.

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Chavellado", is written over a light gray rectangular background.