

The statistical methods of this study were reviewed by the authors (AKM, JL, MLV) who have advanced degrees in health services research and the biostatistical expertise to select and conduct appropriate statistical tests and models to address the questions in this study.