

Institutional review board statement: The study was exempt from the requirement of research ethics committee approval as no patient data were elicited.