

Dear Editor in chief of the World Journal of Orthopedics

It's our honor to submit our invited manuscript entitled 'Effect of lengthening along the anatomical axis of the femur and its clinical impact. Article review' to your most privileged 'World Journal Of Orthopedics', hoping that it might gain your valuable concern.

Our research is an article review, discussing the effect of the lengthening of the femur along its anatomical axis using the intramedullary distractible rods. We declare that it is an original study, that has not been submitted to, or published before in any other journal, meeting or conference. Also we declare that there is no conflict of interest related to this research, either directly or indirectly.

Thank you Very Much
