

Dear editor in chief

Greetings

On behalf of authors, we declare that we have revised and edited the language content of the manuscript entitled 'Effect of lengthening along the anatomical axis of the femur and its clinical impact. Article review'. The manuscript was primarily written by researchers who have extensive experience with research writing and journals reviewing. The authors who wrote this manuscript are Dr Ahmed Nageeb Mahmoud, and Prof Dr Khaled Emara. Both authors have many published research papers on Pubmed and Sciencedirect.

If you feel that the manuscript needs further language edits, we are very willing to follow your suggested procedure for language edition.

Thank You So Much.

Prof Dr Khaled Emara.
