

Dear editors and reviewers

I really feel grateful that you can give us chance to revise our manuscript once again. I feel very honorable that you could give comments on our manuscript and we have opportunity to further improve our manuscript. We have tried our best to revise our manuscript point-by-point in red. I will feel very appreciated if we could get the chance to further revise once our manuscript is not eligible. Thank you very much.

Your sincerely

Jilai Bian

(Q: question R: response)

Reviewer #1 (Remarks to the Author):

Q: Interesting case report. Only some minor language reisions are needed.

R: We have reviewed and edited our manuscript with the aid of an English-speaking editor.

Reviewer#2 (Remarks to the Author)

Q: Very interesting case report. In this study, the authors reported a stage IV ICC patient harboring a PIK3CA mutation responded well to mTOR inhibitor everolimus. Over all, the manuscript is well written, only some minor language polishing should be corrected. And the references can be updated.

R: We have reviewed and edited our manuscript with the aid of an English-speaking editor. And the references have been updated.

Reviewer #3 (Remarks to the Author)

Q: Very interesting case. After some minor language revision, it can be accepted for publication.

R: We have reviewed and edited our manuscript with the aid of an English-speaking editor.