Mining twitter to understand the smoking cessation barriers

Chayakrit Krittanawong, Takeshi Kitai, Zhen Wang

Abstract

Smoking cessation is challenging and a lack of positive support is known to be the main barrier to quit smoking. Studies suggested that social influence could increase smokers' awareness of social norms on the proper behavior, leading smoking cessation.<sup>1, 2</sup> Social media use is increasing among U.S. young adults. However, the relationship between social media and smoking cessation is lacking. Here, we performed data mining analysis of Twitter to assess the barriers of smoking cessation.
