Dear Editor:

We have revised MS No. 3574 (editorial) closely following the recommendations of our reviewers.

ESPS Manuscript NO: 3574

All reviewer comments have been considered and revisions have been made.

00429968 – revised with more social cognitive theory detail. This would apply for the hip as well; however hip arthroplasty is a more effective, less lifestyle reducing intervention. For that reason we focused on the knee.

00505429 – we have revised the sentence related to war.

References and typesetting were likewise corrected.

Please advise regarding the need for any further corrections or concerns.

Thanks for publishing in the World Journal of Orthopedics

Sincerely,

John Nyland
