COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

The review is a very interesting. Discuss the price of each of the tests and the degree of acceptance of the population. Add a table with six columns that includes sensitivity and specificity (advanced neoplasia), sensitivity-specificity (for cancer), price, degree of acceptance of each of the screening tests (FS, colonoscopy, FIT, DNA test, CT colonoscopy) , decreased mortality for CRC (%) and risk of complications. Approximately

COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

The authors presented a systematic review of CRC screening guidelines for average-risk adults, summarizing the current global recommendations. Most of guidelines were reviewed in well-organized manner, and their difference was also described well. And, the limitation of this review was also mentioned properly.

COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

This is a very good and interesting paper, welcomed in the field of gastroenterology. Only one comment: in section - Trial selection and study population use [] instead of () for - i.e. Association of Coloproctology and i.e. such as the Gastroenterological Society
