

Biostatistics Review Certificate

Department of Radiology

Translational and Molecular Imaging Institute

Icahn School of Medicine at Mount Sinai

Hess Center for Science and Medicine

1470 Madison Avenue, New York, NY 10029, United States

February 7, 2018

The statistical analysis for our study “Effect of varying CT acquisition and reconstruction parameters on semi-automated clot volume quantification” was performed by Ching Hsu, PhD, a statistician at Daiichi Sankyo Pharma Development of Daiichi Sankyo, Inc.

Venkatesh Mani, Ph.D.

Associate Professor, Department of Radiology

Director, Cardiovascular Imaging Clinical Trials Unit

Translational and Molecular Imaging Institute

Icahn School of Medicine at Mount Sinai

