COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

You should provide references when you say HBP have contributed to the prevention of colon cancer through the eradication of DCP or being less categorical in this sentence. It is not a scientific reason to support a medical technique because it is a "very popular method". Could you re-write or delete this sentence? It would be interesting if you add a conclusion; a final paragraph in which you express your opinion in a sentence and recommend further prospective studies in order to assess the best method for the removal of diminutive colorectal polyps.

Very interesting and well comprehensive overview on an important topic in gastrointestinal endoscopy. I think it may have a real impact in the field.
