Approval conditions for all Gangnam SEV Human Research Protocols

1. Gangnam SEV Research Policies :

All individuals engaged in human subjects research are responsible for compliance with all applicable Gangnam SEV HRPP(Human Research Protection Program). The principal investigator of the research is ultimately responsible for assuring all study team members review and adhere to applicable policies for the conduct of human subject research.

2. Principal Investigator recordkeeping responsibilities :

Principal investigators are responsible for keeping protocol and study records. The following web pages should be reviewed for more information about the PI's recordkeeping responsibilities, and preparation and maintenance of research files. See <http://ocr.yuhs.ac/Gangnam/GN/Center/Vision.aspx>

3. Protocol Expiration :

The Gangnam SEV IRB approval expiration date is listed above. As a courtesy, approximately 6 weeks prior to expiration of this approval, the IRB Office will send an e-mail reminding you to apply for continuing review. It is your responsibility to apply for continuing review and receive continuing approval for the duration of the study. Lapses in approval should be avoided to protect the safety and welfare of enrolled subjects.

4. Modifications & Amendments :

No changes are to be made to the approved protocol or the approved, stamped consent form without prior review and approval of the Gangnam SEV IRB. All changes(e.g., a change in procedure, number of subjects, personnel, study locations, new recruitment materials, study instruments, etc.) must be prospectively reviewed and approved by the IRB before they are implemented.
