

Prof. Tian Yang, MD,
Associate Professor, Attending Doctor, Surgeon, Surgical Oncologist, Teacher,
Department of Hepatobiliary Surgery, Eastern Hepatobiliary Surgery Hospital,
Second Military Medical University,
Shanghai 200438, China

Dear Editor Tian Yang,

Thank you for your consideration.

We have revised the paper “Current status of PI3K-mTOR Inhibition in Hormone-Receptor Positive, HER2-negative Breast Cancer” for the minor-revisions suggested by the reviewers (polishing of the English language) and those requested by the editorial office. The following amendments were made:

- Language editing of the manuscript
- A shorter core tip (98 words)
- A short running title (5 words)
- The reference numbers have been superscripted in square brackets at the end of the sentences
- PMIDs have been added to those references indexed in PubMed
- A copy of the full approved grant application forms have been provided

Kind regards,

Bruna Scaggiante, Corresponding Author and Editorial Board Member of WJCO