SPECIFIC COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

This is a thorough review of the current literature on the futility of liver transplant in high risk recipients and the lack of consensus on this topic. The algorithm that you have suggested is a starting point but needs prospective data to validate it, as you point

SPECIFIC COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

I congratulate the comprehensive review of the difficult topic in liver transplantation. I only have several comments for minor revision. 1. The text seems too long. Section VI could be deleted, since the issues debated in section VI seem to get a little bit off the track. 2. In addition, “Conclusion” section was too long with redundant descriptions. This section had better be condensed and be headed like “Future perspective”, and “Conclusion” should be more concise. 3. “V. Sepsis” section. Can authors comment on the indication and the outcome for those with positive blood culture? 4. Table 1. Please add the reference number for each study.
