

Response letter

Dear Editors and Reviewers:

We submitted the manuscript of "Application of computer-assisted navigation in isolating congenital maxillomandibular syngnathia, case report" on Nov 8nd, 2018 (No.43385) for your kind consideration to be published on World Journal of Clinical Cases.

We received detailed comments, questions, and suggestions from you and the Reviewers on Jun. 10th, 2019. We appreciated these comments, questions, and suggestions, which provided great help in revising the current manuscript. Now, we have finished the revision of the manuscript and re-submitted online. We have taken all the suggestions and advices from the reviewers, supplemented patient information , modified the structure of abstract and case presentation and the corresponding contents in the revised manuscript. All the revisions in the manuscript are highlighted in red. We believe the revised manuscript has been improved greatly and hope it can be accepted by your journal.

Sincerely yours,

MeiWei
