Peroneus longus tendon rupture: A case report

Don Koh, Lincoln Liow, Joseph Cheah, Kevin Koo

Abstract

Background: Peroneal tendinopathies are an under-diagnosed and potentially under-treated pathology. If left untreated it can be a cause of chronic lateral hindfoot pain. Its diagnosis is challenging owing to its low incidence and vague clinical presentation.

Case Summary: We share a case of a patient who experienced a chronic lateral ankle pain exacerbated after alighting from a bus. This patient came to our attention only after
